Determination of Patent Term Adjustment under 35 U.S.C. 154 (b) (application filed on or after May 29, 2000)

The Patent Term Adjustment to date is 420 day(s). If the issue fee is paid on the date that is three months after the mailing date of this notice and the patent issues on the Tuesday before the date that is 28 weeks (six and a half months) after the mailing date of this notice, the Patent Term Adjustment will be 420 day(s).

If a Continued Prosecution Application (CPA) was filed in the above-identified application, the filing date that determines Patent Term Adjustment is the filing date of the most recent CPA.

Notice of Fee Increase on October 1, 2003

If a reply to a "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" is filed in the Office on or after October 1, 2003, then the amount due will be higher than that set forth in the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" since there will be an increase in fees effective on October 1, 2003. See Revision of Patent Fees for Fiscal Year 2004; Final Rule, 68 Fed. Reg. 41532, 41533, 41534 (July 14, 2003).

The current fee schedule is accessible from (<http://www.uspto.gov/main/howtofees.htm>).

If the fee paid is the amount shown on the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" but not the correct amount in view of the fee increase, a "Notice of Pay Balance of Issue Fee" will be mailed to applicant. In order to avoid processing delays associated with mailing of a "Notice of Pay Balance of Issue Fee," if the response to the Notice of Allowance is to be filed on or after October 1, 2003 (or mailed with a certificate of mailing on or after October 1, 2003), the issue fee paid should be the fee that is required at the time the fee is paid. If the issue fee was previously paid, and the response to the "Notice of Allowance and Fee(s) Due" includes a request to apply a previously-paid issue fee to the issue fee now due, then the difference between the issue fee amount at the time the response is filed and the previously-paid issue fee should be paid. See Manual of Patent Examining Procedure, Section 1308.01 (Eighth Edition, August 2001).

Effective October 1, 2003, 37 CFR 1.18 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) through (c) to read as set forth below.

Section 1.18 Patent post allowance (including issue) fees.

- (a) Issue fee for issuing each original or reissue patent, except a design or plant patent:
- By a small entity (Sec. 1.27(a))..... $665.00
 - By other than a small entity..... $1,330.00
- (b) Issue fee for issuing a design patent:
- By a small entity (Sec. 1.27(a))..... $240.00
 - By other than a small entity..... $480.00
- (c) Issue fee for issuing a plant patent:
- By a small entity (Sec. 1.27(a))..... $320.00
 - By other than a small entity..... $640.00

Questions relating to issue and publication fee payments should be directed to the Customer Service Center of the Office of Patent Publication at (703) 305-8283.

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 61, 62, 64-70, 72 and 82-104 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

In claim 61, applicant has claimed a method of screening a combinatorial library comprised of: simultaneously flowing a test fluid through six or more vessels where each of the vessels comprise a member of the combinatorial library, simultaneously flowing the test fluid through six or more flow restrictors where each of the six flow restrictors provide communication between one of the six or more vessels and either an entrance or exit control volume, simultaneously contacting at least six of the six or more library members with the test fluid in the vessels, simultaneously detecting changes in the test fluid following contact with the library and then correlating changes in the test fluid to a property of the six or more library members. In claim 62, applicant recites a similar method, but the vessels contain catalysts and instead of detecting a property, the reaction products or unreacted reactants are detected. In claim 72, applicant again claims a similar method, but in this claim the six or more reaction vessels have different catalyst candidates in the reaction vessels where each catalyst candidate is contacted with one or more reactants. Finally in claim 98, applicant has specified the structure of the flow restrictor to be a capillary tube or micromachined channel.

As noted by applicant, the Examiner had previously upheld the rejection of Examiner Bex based on a broad interpretation of independent claims 61, 62, 72, and

Art Unit: 1743

98. Before amending the claims, applicant had broadly recited a method of screening catalysts in which reactants were simultaneously flowed through flow restrictors providing communication between reactor vessels and an entrance and/or exit volume. The Examiner maintained the previous rejection based on the fact that the previous reference did indeed include flow restrictors. These claims have now been amended to include the limitation that the flow restrictors provide a resistance to fluid flow in the flow channel that is greater at the flow restrictor so that the flow rate through each of the six or more reaction vessels is approximately the same. This limitation was previously found in claim 63. Applicant suggested this limitation be added to the independent claim in an interview with the Examiner on October 22, 2003. After reviewing the prior art and the previous rejections, the Examiner agreed that this limitation would distinguish the instant claims over the prior art. Applicant argued that this feature is not present in the previously cited reference "Windhab". Windhab cites flow restrictors, but does not teach a greater resistance at the restrictor as opposed to the rest of the channel so that the flow rate through each of the six or more reaction vessels is approximately the same. The Examiner agreed with applicant and considers the reference "Windhab" to be the closest prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
